USING AI

I use AI across almost everything I do, not just marketing, but always responsibly. Every output still gets a human touch and a human check at each step, so nobody's ever looking at something that reads as AI-generated or "AI slop." I build detailed prompts and custom tools to get results as close to finished as possible, then apply that final 10% by hand to make sure it's genuinely ready to go out under my name.

SUMMARY

Marketing and business development professional with experience across lead generation, client relationships and multi-channel campaigns. Comfortable coordinating CRM systems, sales pipelines and cross-team projects, with the organisation and attention to detail to keep fast-paced operations running smoothly. A clear communicator and natural relationship-builder, equally at home supporting new business, managing client accounts, or providing the administrative backbone a team relies on.

EXPERIENCE

Marketing Executive

Apr 2026 – Jul 2026

Saber Renewable Energy, Chorley · Maternity Cover

- Authored the "Finding the Perfect Blend of Renewables for UK Manufacturers" white paper, the anchor asset for the Manufacturing sector campaign, co-marketed with technology partner 2G Energy
- Owned execution of the sector marketing campaign built around it, spanning content, LinkedIn, email nurture and paid lead generation
- Audited and rewrote the full campaign asset library against the white paper, catching unverified claims and factual inconsistencies before publication
- Scoped and recommended a £7,499 paid lead generation package targeting 25 MQLs from an approximately 8,000-contact ICP, run as a controlled test rather than committing to unproven spend
- Built an internal project deck for a 251.9 MWp solar PPA programme across 525 surveyed sites, covering grid status and live recommissions
- Managed a LinkedIn paid campaign targeting director-level prospects at UK manufacturing companies with 200+ employees

Marketing Executive

- Own the full lead lifecycle from enquiry and qualification through to handover to sales
- Manage CRM systems to track lead activity, maintain accurate data and improve pipeline visibility
- Report on campaign and pipeline performance to senior stakeholders, presenting findings clearly and recommending next steps
- Plan content calendars and produce marketing materials across web, email and social channels
- Analyse campaign performance and market trends to sharpen commercial positioning and improve conversion

Marketing and Sales Coordinator

Oct 2023 – Feb 2024

Fox & Bear, Brighton

- Supported lead generation and business development campaigns across marketing and sales
- Prepared sales proposals, presentations and marketing materials for commercial opportunities
- Managed CRM records to track enquiries and support sales pipeline activity
- Wrote and scheduled marketing content across email, website and social media channels
- Coordinated email marketing, website updates and social media, and conducted market research on prospects
